

“Database of MW-Scale PV Projects in Japan 2015”

(Published in July 2015)

Price: 100,000 JPY/copy

Since the Feed-in Tariff (FIT) program started in Japan on July 1, 2012, development of MW-scale PV projects has been sharply increasing. More and more companies from various sectors both from Japan and overseas are getting involved in the development of MW-scale PV power plants, taking advantage of the FIT program.

This report covers a list of MW-scale PV projects (so-called “Mega Solar” projects in Japan) commissioned and in the pipeline in Japan. The list provides you with details of over 2,100 MW-scale PV projects operated by electric utilities and by other operators including local governments, businesses and NPOs. The report also covers a list of PV system integrators as well as details of the FIT program.

The list of the PV projects in an excel file will be updated 3 times in October 2015, January and April 2016 and be provided to purchasers of this report. It is expected that the number of projects will continue increasing.
